J. M. TAYLOR TELLS OF INCIDENT $100 FEE TO BALDWIN

ANOTHER STATEMENT OFFERED TO KEEP THE RECORD STRAIGHT.

County Attorney Taylor Tells of Conversation With St. John Concerning the Fee.

James M. Taylor, county attorney, added a statement to the Baldwin $100 fee episode which he yesterday made public the following statement:

"I received in the morning a few days ago a letter from Mr. St. John, dated with concerning a matter that I happened to know something about, and that is about the $100 fee that Mr. Baldwin claims to have gotten from Mr. St. John, a brother of Mrs. West."

"Now I do not like to get mixed up in newspaper controversies, and would not in this instance, but for the fact that I told Judge Timon how it happened that $100 of this money did not go to the widow of the deceased, of course I told him what Mr. St. John told me. I had no conversation with Mr. Baldwin at all."

"My connection with this affair is as follows, in so far—At the time this unfortunate accident happened, Hon. John A. Pace and myself were partners in the law business, and the impression at that time among some of the officers was that Mr. West might have been killed by some person, and we understood that some of the officers thought that Lucia Caldwell had some thing to do with it. I know something to me that she wished that $100 may be that it would serve no purpose if she were employed to defend Lucia Caldwell if she had hired her, and that we could state the facts just as they were, and that she was ready to nominate given Mr. Baldwin one hundred dollars in this killing and a complaint was filed for getting this money. As you can draw your own conclusion from this language."

"When I saw Judge Timon after his return from Waco, I think he asked me about this money, and I told him that the money had been paid, and that Mr. St. John told me he had paid Mr. Baldwin $100 for getting this money. Judge Timon seemed to be very much aggravated when I told him this, and said to me, 'You know why it was done, and why I permitted it to be done, and I told him that I knew nothing about it, and that it had been done, and that I had known when Mr. St. John was doing it would have told him that it was unnecessary to pay and also that I had better to tell this history. I told him then the details of the transaction, and with this statement I had, and with this statement I had the Judge Timon, and the statement that he made concerning this matter to his speech at Easton, especially when I had told him what Mr. St. John told me."

"One other point that Mr. St. John mentioned is his letter which you said he said that he met Lucia Caldwell with two suit cases in an automobile, and tried to leave the impression that she was leaving town, and it had not been for him that she would have gone away with the money and Mr. West's widow would have never gotten it. There were no valises in the machine. Lucia Caldwell was not leaving at the time, there were no cases, leaving Corpus Christi at that hour of the day, all of which can be established by the man who was driving the car. Mr. West's wife, Lucia Caldwell, got about $200 in checks of different amounts which had been given her by Mr. West and before her death, and that she cashed them. These checks were never cashed Mr. St. John told me that they were not paid off, which can be established by the First State Bank. Now Mr. Baldwin has evidently forgotten about these facts."

"The day that Mr. St. John came to town, the first thing that I knew about his being here, was about 2:30 p.m. Lucia Caldwell called me up and told me that Mr. Baldwin and a man by the name of Mr. St. John, who claimed to be a brother-in-law to Mr. West, was out at her house and wanted the $100 fee. I told her that Judge Timon was out of town and that I guessed that it would be all right to pay it to him, but to require a receipt of him for the money, and I told her to tell Mr. St. John that I wanted to see him. They went to the hotel and the money was there paid to Mr. St. John, and in a few minutes Mr. St. John came to my office and I had a conversation with him in the office. My purpose in having him to come to the office, was to find out from him, whether or not from the investigation that he had made, he thought that Mr. West had killed himself, and he told me in that conversation that there was no question but what Mr. West had killed himself, and he told me in that conversation that he had threatened to do so two or three other times, and that he was perfectly satisfied that Lucia Caldwell had nothing to do with the killing. Shortly after Mr. St. John was in my office, Lucia Caldwell rang up the office and I answered the phone, and she asked me if I had seen Mr. St. John and what he said, and I told her that he was perfectly satisfied that Mr. West committed suicide, and that I felt that no complaint would be filed against her and that she could go away if she wanted to, and she told me that she would leave that night."

"While St. John was in my office, I told him of the agreement that Judge Timon, Mr. Wright and myself had, and that the money had been ready for the consumer pays it. Our duty is to bring to the world something that would serve no purpose if it were not for the consumer."

It was thought that representatives from those sections of the state in conference at Waco, a central point, could more effectively plan and execute the work in connection with the proposed union. A copy of the article recently prepared by the clinic's secretary was mailed with the letter above quoted.

The clinic committee knowing that the consumer is to pay the freight and that an increase of 15 per cent is to take place in Texas, that is to rates directly under the Texas Commission's jurisdiction, would be at least $6,000,000 yearly additional burden, and knowing that the people are not in financial condition to bear such burdens, and being further convinced that the enhancement of railroads is only temporary and that, with the return of normal conditions, they will not stand this additional $6,000,000 yearly increase, the committee proposes to eliminate the work assigned to it to the very best of its ability.

We want the consumer to realize that he pays the freight. We need your cooperation in our efforts to help you.

UNIQUE PARADE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. The historic and popular celebration of the Texas Centennial Anniversary of the city of New York was a brilliant event yesterday. Texas' unique and many A reproduction of the Texan White Clinton train, the first locomotive and train ever run in the United States, was a notable feature, and to contrast it with the modern type, an elaborate sugar made of sugar cubes long followed in the line. Progress in Hudson river navigation was shown by two flotillas one representing Robert Fulton's Clermont and the other the modern river boat. The original state capitol, which crossed George Washington through the streets of old New York on its way to be incorporated, President of the United States.

We present that your people have seen the announcement to the effect that the Railroad Commission of Texas will have a hearing on Nov. 3rd in connection with the application from the railroad companies of the state for an increase of 15 per cent in freight rates, and, while we all realize the fact that railroad traffic is because of present demoralized commercial conditions not as great as it was under normal conditions, we do not believe that the consumer should at this time, when his burdens are already greater than he can bear, bear them merely by increasing freight rates. And we, as a committee, having been appointed by our Commercial Club for this purpose, and acting in the hope that the people of the state will be an assistance, sincerely protest against the proposed increases, we most earnestly request that you at once call a meeting of your directors and other officers interested in this matter, and select a representative who is earnest, capable and willing to work to meet with representatives from other cities in Chamber of Commerce rooms in Waco at 7 o'clock a.m. Saturday, November 1st, no formalities please whereby a united effort may be made in the preparation and presentation of the protest.

Our secretary, who was connected with the Railroad Commission meetings years, prepared for publication, the enclosed article, which we think clearly shows that the consumer and we are all of that class should be greatly interested in this matter. It may be well to read the article at the called meeting.

If our suggestion shall meet with the approval of your people we will thank you to so advise our secretary by wire, giving name of your representative to the Waco meeting.

This letter is also being sent to the following cities, which well represent the different sections of the state: Abilene, Wichita Falls, Paris, Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Waco, and Corpus Christi.

The increase asked means an extra burden of over $1,000,000 per year.
